

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## PREFACE

SOURCES AND VALUE

Publications of this description are usually issued in the form of well illustrated pamphlets and will supplement with little expense the books on geography used in the class room. They come from several sources, the United States government, the different state governments, railroads, steamship lines, manufacturing firms, and chambers of commerce of cities and towns.

Mr. Roland M. Harper has an article entitled A neglected source of geographical material in the Journal of Geography for June 1916, p. 392-4, in which he states reasons why this material is not used as much as it might be and gives his estimate of its value in the following words: "As far as accuracy is concerned, the present standard for free geographical literature, with the possible exception of that issued by land companies, is higher than one might suppose without investigation. Many of the statements in these advertising pamphlets relate to facts which there would hardly be any motive for misrepresenting, or which can easily be verified in these days of rapid dissemination of knowledge. Even some state supplements to school geographies, published during the present century, are more extravagant, and even inaccurate in describing the advantages of their respective regions, and say less of the disadvantages, than some of the literature here discussed."

Mr. H. H. Williams of the Bureau of Education, Manila, P. I. in an article entitled Travel booklets as an aid to geography in the Journal of Geography for January 1917, p. 161-3, gives a number of suggestions on the use of this kind of material together with a number of addresses not included in this list.

HOW TO OBTAIN

In writing for publications issued by societies, manufacturing firms, railroads, and steamship lines, give the names of the pamphlets desired and enclose postage. Some firms do not recognize a request for pamphlets unless a stamp is enclosed. If you want to obtain the most recent material, write for a list of publications and choose the ones needed, for new booklets are being frequently issued.

Address the proper department for the state publications, enclosing postage. The publications of the Pan American Union may usually be obtained free from your congressman.

In regard to obtaining government publications it is difficult to lay down rules, as the practice of distribution varies in the different departments and bureaus. In this list the department or bureau issuing the pamphlet has usually been indicated and also the price at which the Superintendent of documents sells it. Sometimes the pamphlet may be obtained free by writing direct to the issuing bureau or department. If the supply for free distribution has been exhausted, you will be notified and then the publication can be bought from the Superintendent of documents at the price stated.

Because of the ephemeral nature of many of these publications certain titles given in this list may even be out of print. Frequently new booklets will be issued to replace them and on this account it is usually better, when writing for a certain title, to add a request for other similar publications.

NEW MATERIAL

To keep up with the geographical material obtainable free or at small cost which is being constantly issued, consult the Monthly Catalogue of United States Public Documents and the Monthly List of State Publications, both distributed by the Superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C. Read the advertisements of railroads and steamship companies appearing in magazines and newspapers, which frequently offer to send free or for postage descriptive booklets. These advertisements change with the seasons and in the course of a year will include almost all parts of the world. In the columns of Public Libraries, The Library Journal, The Wisconsin Library Bulletin, and other periodicals are often found items giving the names of recent pamphlets.

SUGGESTIONS

Most firms are glad to supply material free to teachers for use in their schools but object to receiving 30 or 40 requests from the same town from small children who are making collections of pictures, etc. Teachers should not have a whole room write for the same pamphlets as this practice makes it difficult for those really needing the pamphlets to get them.

County and city superintendents of schools may be able to obtain several copies of the material in this list and keep it in a convenient place for the use of teachers under their direction.

SOME POINTS ABOUT THIS LIST

The addresses of those issuing the pamphlets listed have been given fully but the state, province, or country has been uniformly omitted when the name of the state, province, or country occurs as the subject. In order to shorten the list usually only one pamphlet from any one source is listed, the phrase "also other publications" being used to show that others on the same subject are issued.

The highest limit in price has been placed at fifty cents, except in a few instances in the bibliographies and in the list of Educational exhibits. Where no price is stated the publications were sent free to the compiler and no information in regard to price was given. Certain publications which were not seen, but which there was reason to believe would prove worthy, have been listed with a note showing that they have not been examined.

EDITIONS

The first edition of this list was published in the Wisconsin Library Bulletin for January-February 1912. A revised list was published in the Journal of Geography, January 1914, a number of the new titles having been suggested by Miss Adelaide R. Hasse, Chief, Public Documents Department, New York Public Library. It was reprinted by the American Library Association Publishing Board, 78 East Washington Street, Chicago. Another list, partially revised, was printed in the Normal School Bulletin, October 1914; the same list with the addition of a few titles was printed in the Journal of Geography January 1915; the new titles in these last two lists were largely pamphlets issued by commercial clubs and chambers of commerce.

This list is a complete revision of the other lists published. It has been compiled from responses to letters sent out in the latter part of 1916.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The generosity of societies, firms, railroads, steamship lines, and individuals in sending material for examination has made this list possible and their kindness is appreciated.
